PALESTINE YMCA EXPANSION BREAKS GROUND

Palestine, Texas The YMCA of Palestine broke ground on a 25,000 s.f. renovation and expansion that will impact dramatically the visibility and use of the facility. Board members, major donors, and the design and construction team were on hand for the ceremony.

The Palestine YMCA serves as a community center, recreational center, gathering spot, and after school care. The YMCA sought to double the size of its current facility while maintaining service to its members. The project will be accomplished in two phases so as to minimize disruption to this fully operational facility. The fitness and community center functions were grouped to appeal to the different users. The new climbing wall / lounge will provide a significant attraction that will boost membership. Azimuth : Architecture, Inc. of Dallas, TX provided the masterplanning, architecture and interior design on the project. The YMCA expansion program includes:

Azimuth : Architecture, Inc., founded in 1995, provides architectural and interior design services to health care facilities, industrial/office complexes, recreational centers, and corporate offices. The firm provides a number of services, including: master planning / site planning, space planning and interior design, as well as architectural design.
